FARMERS' VOICE AFRICA

FAVOA

FARMERS SWEAT, FARMERS HOPE FARMERS PRIDE

ABOUT US

1

BACKGROUND

Farmer's Voice Africa is a non-profit making organization that was established in 2017 to look at the welfare of farmers and the marginalized. It is a duly registered organization with valid certifications. Its operations are principally based on three pillars: Advocacy, Capacity building, and Marketing in agriculture industry. In addition, FAVOA works in close association with tertiary students through their respective FAVOA satellites, where it equips students with extra-curricular skills for their preparedness towards life after leaving school.

FAVOA's outstanding objective is to foster change in mediating for farmers' produce across the continent with its technical and operational personnel who know no boundaries in the provision of opportunities and access to the well-being of farmers in relation to sustainable developmental goals (SDGs). Its selfless commitment towards livelihood and agricultural development has turned the lives of African farmers into an epitome of admiration and hope.

Motivated by farmers' industriousness and curiosity, FAVOA provides expertise to the farmers through its tertiary members (students) and agricultural specialists who are trained in different colleges and universities to provide high quality guidance and awareness: through extension services among farmers.

FAVOA's consistency and effectiveness derives from its strong partnership with the Malawi government, Ministry of Agriculture through different parastatal organizations such as National Reserve Food Agency (NRFA), Auction Holdings Limited Commodity Exchange (AHLGX). Its ties extend to other international organization such as Land 'O' Lakes, Action Aid, World Food Program (WFP), Concern Worldwide and many more. –

MISSION STATEMENT

OUR PHILOSOPHY

We are driven by the dreams and aspirations of farmers and the youths across the globe. Hence it goes without saying repetitively that our motto "Farmers' Sweat, Farmers' Hope and Farmers' Pride" propels us to maximize our efforts and energy in transforming the agricultural sector.

COLLABORATION

FAVOA has left no stone unturned in its operations and expansions. To ensure accountability, transparency and efficiency, FAVOA collaborates with different stakeholders whose interest is for the betterment of farmers and the youth both nationally and internationally. Owing to this, its hands are wide open to make sure that change is permanent in farmers' productivity and profitability.

MEMBERSHIP

Membership at FAVOA has been made easy and simple. Our membership is in the following three Basic categories:

1. Regular members: thus all farmers belonging to commodity organization and local cooperatives, medium and large scale farmers as well as agro-dealers and those willing to be farmers. These members automatically belong to the established Cooperatives for proper and accurate implementation of programs and agricultural policies.

2. Corporate members: it comprises of developmental partners such as corporate bodies, organizations and companies having interest to work and discharge their services to farmers through FAVOA. This is done in realization that team work maximizes results, as well as in compliment to SDG #17 that strengthen the means of implementation and revitalize the global partnership for sustainable development.

3. Tertiary members:; these are FAVOA students' organizations formed under universities and colleges or other higher learning institutions with fresh ideas of making agriculture worth for a living among Malawian farmers, and Africa in its entirety. These members are trained to be agents of change as in line with SDG 4 ( Ensure inclusive and equitable quality education and promote lifelong learning opportunities for all).
